Themes for next week's assemblies
 Each week we have a special theme for our assemblies and one of our key skills/values will be a focus for the week, with children being rewarded for displaying these. Our skill and theme for the next school week will be:

Good afternoon everyone!
 Nearly at the end of another term and another year! What a term it has been! Thank you to parents, governors, staff and pupils for all of your support and for helping us to move the school forward. I am excited to be helping to make Broadmeadow Infants great again.
 Next term will be a wonderful new start for us all. We will be ensuring that our curriculum meets all requirements and is successful in enabling our children to make progress. We will be expanding our programme of personal development through more out of school visits, after school clubs, concerts, performances and a school council. We will have new rewards systems for reading, behaviour and attendance and will be improving communication with you through Headteacher Coffee mornings, our new website and hopefully a parent teachers association. Most importantly we will make sure that all of the issues in our recent Ofsted report are addressed so that we can quickly move back to 'good'.
 Have a wonderful summer break everyone. I look forward to welcoming you all back in September.
 Kind regards
 Paula Rudd, Interim Headteacher
