Themes for next week's assemblies

Each week we have a special theme for our assemblies and one of our key skills/values will be a focus for the week, with children being rewarded for displaying these. Our skill and theme for the next school week will be: Presenting/Love means....?

Good afternoon everyone!

I know many of you will be disappointed having read our OFSTED report this week. Many parents have spoken to me over the past few weeks to say how wonderful the teaching staff are at Broadmeadow and how happy their children are here. The OFSTED grading does not change any of this and we hope that you will trust us to address the issues raised, to continue to improve the areas identified and to deliver on your aspirations as parents.

The report will be published on the OFSTED website within the next few days and a link to the report will be on our website. We have already written an action plan detailing what we are going to do to improve and this has been shared with governors. Many of these changes you will have seen in school already.

We have had reports that there is a rumour going around that the school is going to close. This is not true. There are no plans what so ever to close the school. Can I also remind parents that the junior school is a completely different school and this report is just about the infant school. OFSTED did not inspect the juniors. The junior school is a very good school and those moving from Year 2 can look forward to having fun and making excellent progress in their learning.

Kind regards

Paula Rudd, Interim Headteacher

We will ask you to pay for any lost books.

Well done!

Congratulations to Nursery for your amazing assembly this morning. You were so grown up and remembered everything so well. A huge thank you to Mrs Aytoun for preparing and rehearsing with all of the children. You are a star! Mrs Beddoe was so sad that she could not be there to help and to see it all, but she sends her love and says 'WOW! You are all amazing Nursery, I am really missing you all'.
